Supervisors Defer Adopting New Name for Lee Infirmary

Issue Returned to Committee by Board for Further Studies

Decision on a new name for the Lee county Infirmary was deferred by the county board of supervisors yesterday when the problem was turned back to the infirmary committee, which will study suggested names and report its recommendations at a future meeting.

Meanwhile, the board authorized the expenditure of $1,600 for a new station wagon for use at the infirmary.

Supervisor George Prescott, chairman of the infirmary committee told the board that Superintendent Fred Washburn has been using his own car for infirmary business. He said a station wagon would provide additional economies for the institution.

Chairman Elmer Miller and Supervisors L. D. Hemenway and A. C. Higby were named as delegates to the district supervisors meeting, which will be held in Ogle county March 15.

The board approved reports by County Treasurer Kenneth D. Abbott, which showed a balance of $67,267.62 in the county general fund, and approved the start of a survey of county road improvements scheduled for the coming two years by Engineer C. K. Willett.

Rochelle Attorney Is Indicted in Freeport

Freeport, Ill., March 5—(AP)—Attorney Thomas J. O'Malley of Rochelle, Ill., was indicted by the Stephenson county grand jury today on a charge of embezzlement. The indictment charged he took $1,000 in money and property belonging to Mrs. Blanche Meinert of Freeport while acting as her attorney in handling an estate.

Leo Heck and Harry Brandt, operators of the Exchange Club in Freeport, were indicted on charges of keeping a gambling house.

Uxoricide Writes Mystery Note: Dies

Chicago, March 5—(AP)—Martin Anderson, 41, a hammersmith, shot and killed his wife and himself early today.

Relatives could give no explanation of the meaning of a note which police found in the kitchen. It said:

"This is the way she wanted it. I told her to cut it out. I couldn't stand it any longer. This is the end. I gave thanks the way she wanted it. Take good care of you, Ivar and Robert. Love, Martin."

Anderson's brother-in-law, Sven Anderson, told police Martin had been under treatment for a nervous condition for two and a half years.

The couple's sons, Ivar, 11, and Robert, 9, told police they were awakened shortly after 6 a. m. by two shotgun blasts.

Officers found Anderson lying in a hallway near the kitchen. He had been shot in the head and a 12-gauge shotgun lay nearby. Mrs. Eva Anderson, 31, lay in the couple's bedroom, shot in the chest.

Sven Anderson said the Martin Andersons came here from Sweden.

Christoffel Given Two-Six Year Term

Washington, March 5—(AP)—Harold Christoffel, former CIO union officer in Milwaukee, today was sentenced to serve from two to six years in prison for denying under oath he was a Communist.

Before sentencing Christoffel, Federal District Judge Edward M. Curran turned down a request by O'John Rogge, chief of defense counsel, for a new trial.

The defendant, grim-faced, replied "No, sir," when asked by Curran whether he had anything to say before sentence was passed.

Christoffel is a former president of local 248, of the United Auto Workers at the Milwaukee plant of the Allis-Chalmers company.

He was convicted on six counts of perjury before the house labor committee a year ago.

Christoffel testified he had never been a Communist or had connections with the Communist party.

Curran granted a motion by Rogge that the second count of the indictment be stricken. This was a statement by Christoffel that he never had been a member of the Communist Political association.

$450,000 in Jewels, Unfrosted Priest in Italy Are Missing

Rome, March 5—(AP)—Italian police announced they are investigating the disappearance of $450,000 worth of jewels in connection with the flight of an unfrosted Vatican priest.

Police said last night Eduardo Prettnier Cippico, who had been a trusted attaché of the Vatican secretariat of state, was given the jewels for safekeeping during the German occupation by friends and a member of his prominent Trieste family.

The Vatican defrocked the priest so that Italian police may arrest him without violating the Lateran treaty.

Mother and Babe Die in Fire on Iowa Farm

Maquoketa, Ia., March 5—(AP)—A nine-month-old baby and his mother were dead and five other persons hospitalized with burns today as the result of a fire which destroyed the family's farm home 17 miles northwest of here.

The dead were Jimmy Westmeier, 9-months-old, and his mother, Mrs. Carmelita Westmeier.

The fire was believed to have started when kerosene was poured on a kitchen stove fire.

The father and one eight-year-old child were reported in serious condition at a hospital here. The condition of three other children was reported good.

Some Cities Set Up Machinery for Meeting Calls for Medical Service

Chicago, March 5—(AP)—"Many physicians do dodge the making of calls on patients in the late hours of the night or early morning."

The Journal of the American Medical Association made this assertion today in commenting on recent complaints of this nature from "many sections of the country."

Some cities, the Journal reported, have set up machinery for meeting the demands for emergency medical service 24 hours a day through a physicians' telephone exchange.

The exchange maintains a list of physicians willing to make calls at night or to respond to the calls

Defendants in Suit Over Estate of Late Mrs. Self Sustained

Circuit Judge George C. Dixon Interprets Will of Dixon Mother

In a written opinion, Circuit Judge George C. Dixon has sustained a motion to dismiss a complaint by Mary R. Emmert, administratrix of the estate of the late Nancy L. Self, contending that she is the only person entitled to a house and property at 1009 Highland avenue.

The complaint to construe the will alleged that a controversy existed regarding its interpretation and the construction of a paragraph in the Self will which provided: "I give and devise to my said three daughters, and to the survivors or survivor of them," the house and property.

Sustains Defendants Mrs. Emmert contended that, since the other two daughters, Hazel L. Emmert and Frances B. Merriman, have died, she is entitled to the property alone, since it was bequeathed in joint tenancy.

Judge Dixon sustained the plea of the defendants in the action, Clinton C. Emmert, Betty Maxine Woodvatt and John Woodvatt, which held that statutory provisions held that such estates pass

Boy's Error Kills His Baby Brother

Ottawa, Ill., March 5—(AP)—A four-year-old boy's mistake between oil of wintergreen and glycerin led to the death of his 18-month-old brother.

A one-ounce dose of the oil was given to Rodney Dean Lowery by his older brother, Perry, who thought it was glycerin, being given to the child for medication.

A coroner's jury decided the poisoning which occurred Wednesday night was accidental.

The children's mother, Carolyn, said she gave the boy an antidote but was unable to reach a physician from the Lowery home in Marseilles. Rodney was brought to a hospital in Ottawa where he died yesterday.

Report 30 Arabs Dead in Battles on Plains

Jerusalem, March 5—(AP)—Haganah said today 30 Arabs were killed and many were wounded in a four-hour battle with Jews last night on the plains of Sharon between Tel Aviv and Haifa.

Jews Determined on Jewish Nation

Lake Success, March 5—(AP)—The Jewish agency told the United Nations in effect today that it was determined in any event to go ahead with creation of a Jewish nation in Palestine.

This would be done even if the UN is unable to carry out its own partition project, the agency said in a major policy statement to the UN security council.

Dr. Abba Hillel Silver, chairman of the American section of the Agency's Executive, told the council:

"We feel under obligation to make our position unmistakably clear. As far as the Jewish people is concerned, it has accepted the (partition) decision of the United Nations. We regard it as binding and we are resolved to move forward in the spirit of that decision."

"Under the plan there are dates to be met. We must assume that these dates will be met."

The council met at 9:50 a. m. with prospects of reaching its first test vote during the day on the Palestine partition issue.

The first ballot was expected on an American-drafted proposal that the council accept the general assembly's Nov. 29 decision to split the Holy Land into independent Jewish and Arab nations effective next Oct. 1.

Today's Acts, Talks In Nation's Capital Summarized by AP

Activities on Capitol Hill Briefed by Writers for Telegraph Readers

BULLETIN Washington, March 5—(AP)—The GOP-dominated house appropriations committee refused today to mix into the civil rights fight.

It turned down in closed session a subcommittee recommendation that congress withhold federal money for hospital building and vocational education from states that deny Negroes equal education and job opportunities.

The recommendation was made by a subcommittee headed by Rep. Keefe (R-Wis.). It was knocked out by a vote of 25 to 6.

Washington, March 5—(AP)—A probe by the house un-American activities committee into the loyalty of a high government scientist hit a snag today.

The commerce department refused to turn over its records on Dr. Edward U. Condon, director of the National Bureau of Standards. A subcommittee of the house group has called him "one of the weakest links in our atomic security"—a charge that Condon promptly ridiculed.

Other segments of congress made news about surplus war property, taxes, foreign aid and government employment.

Congress got a message from President Truman asking that affairs of the War Assets Administration be wound up by June 30. Of the original $10,000,000,000 worth of surplus war property, all but $5,400,000,000 worth will have been disposed of by June, the president estimated. He said the remainder could be liquidated by the Federal Works Agency.

Veto Talk Heard Again There also has been talk of a veto if congress passes a tax-cut bill. The house already has okayed a measure to cut taxes $6,500,000,000 and the senate is expected to pass one too.

But the senate bill probably will call for a smaller cut—perhaps $2,000,000,000 smaller. That's because senate Republicans want a bill that will attract enough Democratic votes to beat a veto.

Truman has opposed a tax-cut which would mean a loss in revenue. The government needs that money, he said.

Senator Byrd, (D-Va) told the senate-house economy committee—which he heads—that the government employed more people in January than it did the month before. For the three previous months federal employment had gone down.

Most Republicans agree that both taxes and government expenses should be cut. But foreign aid debate in the senate brought out a dispute among members of the majority party.

Car Dealer Given 2-6 Years in Auto Argument Slaying

Joliet Ill., March 5—(AP)—A two-to-six-year prison term was imposed yesterday on William F. Tomlinson, self-proclaimed "Wild Irishman" of Joliet who fatally shot another man in an argument over locked automobile bumpers.

Tomlinson, an ex-convict, pleaded guilty to a charge of manslaughter yesterday in the Nov. 22 death of John Naiden, 32-year-old father of three children.

Tomlinson called himself "The Wild Irishman" in advertising his Joliet used car business.

Police said Naiden was in a car driven by John Kuta, 29, and another companion, Florentine Yucious, 29, when an auto pulled up behind the stopped Tomlinson car on a Joliet street.

Tomlinson and his wife, Doris, 37, had stopped to fix a windshield wiper.

The occupants of the second car saw Mrs. Tomlinson wave and thought she wanted them to push the stopped car. In the effort, both cars locked bumpers.

Tomlinson came from his auto and the other three from theirs. An argument followed and Naiden was shot through the forehead.

Police said Mrs. Tomlinson maintained she was waving the second car to pass.

Tomlinson was imprisoned for three years at Michigan City, Ind., under the name of Richard Frederick for armed robbery at Gary, Ind., in 1932, police said.

He first was charged with murder in the shooting of Naiden, but this charge was reduced to one of manslaughter after he agreed to plead guilty to the lesser charge.

The sentence was imposed by Circuit Judge James E. Bareilly.

Harriman Refuses Condon Record to Thomas' Probers

Says File Contains Too Much Vital Data to Jeopardize It

Washington, March 5—(AP)—The commerce department stuck by its guns today and refused again to hand over its loyalty records on Dr. Edward U. Condon.

John L. Towne, secretary of the department's loyalty board, came before the committee in response to a subpoena directing that he show up with the papers.

But he didn't have the papers. Nor would he answer questions about them.

Secretary of Commerce Harriman advised the committee by letter last night that the records would not be turned over to the congress members. He said that to do so would be "prejudicial" to the public interest.

In this situation:

May Ask for Law

1. Committee members talked of asking congress to pass a law forcing Harriman to surrender the papers.

2. Harriman's stand was lambasted in speeches on the house floor by Reps. MacKinnon (R-Minn.), Hoffman (R-Mich.), and Rich (R-Pa.).

Rich said, "the only way we will ever get anything of benefit out of those bureaus downtown is to clean house—next November."

3. Un-American activities subcommittee recommended that the full committee hold formal, public hearings on the case of Condon, director of the National Bureau of Standards.

4. Condon himself told reporters that "oh, certainly" he favors hearings. As a matter of fact, he said, he asked for them last July.

Condon is the 46-year-old director described by an un-American activities subcommittee last Monday as "one of the weakest links" in atomic security.

Cardon snapped back that the country has nothing to worry about, that is "absolutely reliable."

The bureau tests many of the government's secret scientific developments.

Democratic State Candidates Due

Candidates for major state offices on the Democratic party ticket will tomorrow complete the first portion of a 17-day preliminary "get acquainted" tour of downstate counties. Next Wednesday evening the group will be in Dixon to appear at a meeting, the time and place to be announced later.

Heading the list of speakers is Adlai E. Stevenson of Libertyville, attorney, alternate delegate to the United Nations and a veteran of World War I, the candidate for governor, and Paul H. Douglas, University of Chicago economics professor and Marine Corps hero of World War II, seeking the post of U. S. senator. Other candidates appearing with the caravan are: Sherwood Dixon of Dixon, for lieutenant governor; Secretary of State Edward J. Barrett of Wilmette, running for re-election; Benjamin O. Cooper of East St. Louis, for auditor; State Representative Ora A. Smith of Biggs, for treasurer; and Ivan A. Elliott of Carmi, for attorney general.

"Stormy" Is Dunked for Revealing Enterprise on Louisiana U. Campus

Baton Rouge, La., March 5—(AP)—For her revealing enterprise in offering university students here a short course in a very liberal art, "Stormy," the strip-tease dancer, got dunked.

"Stormy," whose real name is Stacie Lawrence, came up from New Orleans to present a few bare facts to students at Louisiana State University. She even brought a band along.

While some of the boys assembled before the LSU fieldhouse yelled "take it off," "Stormy" got down to a bra and a pair of black and white striped panties.

At this point a group of muscular young men hustled "Stormy" off her improvised lecture platform and dumped her in a knee-deep pond.

In the ensuing melee the band had its piano smashed and the truck in which it was carried pushed away. When last seen a group of students was merrily shoving it around and singing.

One wheel later was found on the second tier of the football stadium. Campus leaders said they had been unable to identify as students any of those responsible for dunking "Stormy," but a university official said he believed they were.

Some students said they resented "Stormy's" performance of a striptease in the presence of co-eds.

Two State Hospital Wards Ordered Released by Court

Judge George C. Dixon this morning ordered two state hospital inmates released at habeas corpus hearings in Lee county Circuit court, ruling that Cook County court orders committing them to the state hospital were void.

The two were Agnes Pluchinski and Frank Felshtner, who were committed at the hospital from Cook county in 1937 and 1940.

Judge Dixon also granted divorces to Mrs. Vivian Miller, Mrs. Versie A. Butler and Mrs. Catherine N. Bonnell.

Cross Charge Made

Mrs. Miller made a cross charge of desertion against Joseph Miller, to whom she was married June 4, 1939, at Clinton, Iowa. She was granted permission to resume her maiden name, McIntyre. She was represented by Attorney William R. Gunner, Miller by A. G. Harris.

Mrs. Butler was awarded a divorce from Lester F. Butler on a charge of habitual drunkenness. They were married June 13, 1938, in Elsberry, Mo. She was represented by Gunner.

Catherine M. Bonnell won a divorce from Donald M. Bonnell on

Bids on New Bridge at Rockford Are In Springfield, Ill., March 5—(AP)—The state highway division announced today apparent low bids totaling $561,025 were submitted for a new State Street bridge over the Rock River in Rockford.

State's Improvement Company, Chicago, submitted a bid of $436,951 for erecting structural steel, and American Bridge Co., Chicago offered a bid of $124,074 for fabrication of steel.

Because it is a federal aid project, approval of the public roads administration is needed.

North Shore Strike Is Set for March 18

Waukegan, Ill., March 5—(AP)—A strike affecting some 500 Chicago, Milwaukee & North Shore Railway workers has been set for March 18.

Members of the AFL Amalgamated Association of Street, Electric Railway & Motor Coach operators voted 288 to 3 yesterday to leave their jobs.

Kester B. Mordhorst, Waukegan, secretary of the union local, said "this strike will cause a shutdown of the entire Chicago, Milwaukee & North Shore Railway, including their main trunk run from Chicago to Milwaukee."

Mordhorst said the decision to strike stemmed from the railway's refusal to accept wage increase recommendations by two presidential fact-finding panels. The fact finders had recommended that workers be given a 15% cents hourly wage boost, instead of the 20 cents hourly they had demanded.

These recommendations were turned down by the company which said "it is impossible for the company to meet such additional costs and continue in operation."

The pay scale for non-operating workers now ranges from 79 cents to $1.29 1/2 an hour, while that of the bus drivers involved is $1.12 1/2 an hour, Mordhorst said.

The railroad, known as the North Shore, is an electric commuter carrier serving Chicago, Milwaukee and communities in a 90-mile-long area between the two cities.

Politics

Roundup of Developments in National Political Picture by AP

Washington, March 5 (AP)—Democratic peace feelers were reported today to have bumped into an unbudging Dixie stand that only President Truman's exit can halt the civil rights revolt.

Democratic Chairman J. Howard McGrath, who also is a Rhode Island senator, has been sounding out some of his southern colleagues on the chances for a compromise.

The party split over Truman's race equality proposals also is said to have been talked over informally with some senators by Secretary of Labor Schweikert, a former senator himself.

Some of those approached said both were told that only Truman's withdrawal as a potential candidate could bring peace.

McGrath seemingly had little to offer except a return to the 1944 party platform plank on civil rights.

That declaration promised only in a general way to bring about greater equality among the races. It contained no specific reference to the anti-poll tax, anti-lynching, anti-job discrimination and anti-Jim Crow measures proposed by the president.

The southerners were reported to have said, in effect, that this would be fine, but not enough.

What they want, they made it plain, is for Truman to take himself out of the November election picture. As one southerner put it to a reporter: Truman has become a personal issue.

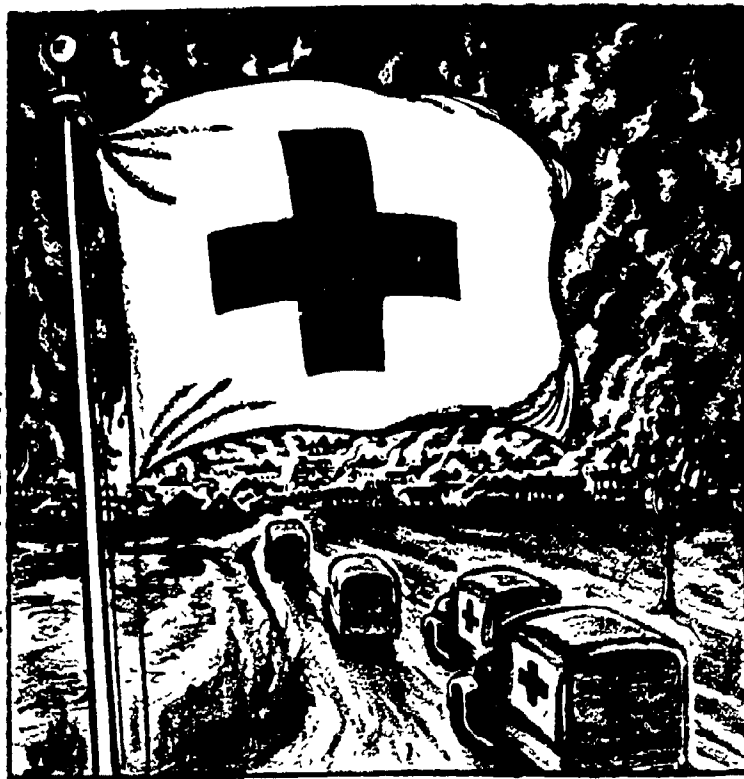

McGrath obviously could promise no move by Truman to get out. In fact, the Democratic chairman has told friends he is as certain as one can be about politics that Truman is determined to run.

The president is described by friend and foe alike as a stubborn man who won't give up in the face of a fight.

Meanwhile, Senator Hill (D-Ala.) who is a pro-Truman candidate for convention delegate, joined Senator Ellender (D-La.) yesterday in criticizing one of the president's civil rights proposals.

The two said in a minority report on a bill to set up a fair employment (anti-job discrimination) commission that it would aid Communism.

They argued that the measure offers an invitation to sabotage because it would keep the federal government from discriminating against a job seeker because of his national origin or ancestry.

Republican state candidates led by Governor Green will hold a series of primary campaign meetings in various parts of Illinois, beginning Wednesday at Newton and Fairfield.

They are scheduled for appearances at Decatur and Danville, March 12; Galesburg and Rock Island, March 16; Kane and DuPage counties, March 19; Springfield, March 25, and Cook county, March 29. Other dates will be announced later.

The Republicans plan no campaign tour in caravans, like the Democrats are doing now.

At East St. Louis Thursday night, Paul H. Douglas accused Republicans of "putting the country in a hole" with the Taft-Hartley Labor Act.

The Democratic candidate for U. S. senator said the GOP congress "had shown its hostility to labor by enacting punitive legislation against unions."

Legislature Criticized
Adlai E. Stevenson, Democratic candidate for governor, criticized the 1947 record of the Republican-controlled Illinois legislature.

"Municipalities in dire financial straits were denied state aid," he said.

"Long need constitutional revision was scuttled. Fair employment practice legislation was killed. Legislative reapportionment received but scanty consideration."

He said the legislature practiced economy "at the expense of the children" by trimming requested school appropriations.

The Democrats will conclude the fifth day of their tour with a meeting tonight at Decatur. On Saturday, they will visit Tuscola, Urbana, Westville and Danville.

Truman Okays Funds for School Lunches

Washington, March 5 (AP)—President Truman has signed a $136,368,385 deficiency appropriation bill providing an additional $5,000,000 for the school lunch program. His approval was announced by the White House.

The school program is operated by the states with federal funds. The bill's total is $5,121,484 above the president's budget requests.

It finances miscellaneous federal agencies whose previously allotted funds for the current fiscal year ending June 30 ran short.

Federal-state programs for hospital construction, vocational education and relief work receive approximately $120,000,000 of the total.

West Newbury, Mass., March 5 (AP)—Pupils in the first seven grades of Central grammar school, taught jointly by five teachers, danced gleefully homeward Thursday all five teachers were sick. To prevent spread of the holiday spirit to the other classes the school superintendent appointed a substitute truant officer.

Figures on Illinois River Flood Costs in 1947 Announced Today

Springfield, Ill., March 5 (AP)—Crop losses reached $12,242,000 and property damage $1,837,550 in Illinois levee and drainage districts as a result of 1947 Mississippi river floods.

The figures, announced today by Thomas B. Casey, chief state waterway engineer, covered only flood protected districts in 11 Illinois counties. Casey estimated damage in unprotected sections of the same area might run another $5,000,000.

Flood conditions from April to July inundated about 236,000 acres, or more than half of the drainage districts. Counties suffering heavy damage included Jackson, Hancock, Adams, Pike, Calhoun, Alexander, Madison, St. Clair, Monroe, Randolph and Union.

Between 1890 and 1940, American college enrollments increased almost 10 fold.

Among U. S. Negroes, 55 women died in 1942 in childbirth for every 10,000 live births compared with 22 deaths among white women.

There were about 175,000 licensed physicians in the United States in 1940 compared with 120,000 in 1900.

Oregon Lutheran Church to Honor Deceased Pastor

(Telegraph Special Service)
Oregon, March 5—St. Paul's Lutheran church will unveil a memorial picture Sunday night at the evening Lenten service, which commences at 7:30 o'clock.

The picture, "Christ Blessing the Children," by Clementz, is being presented by the Unity club of the congregation in memory of the late pastor, the Rev. J. Edwin Dale, who served the congregation here from 1929 until his death, Oct. 12, 1944, longest pastorate in the 100 years history of the congregation.

The picture will be placed over the fireplace in the basement room where Sunday evening services are being held.

Mrs. James Schmidt and daughter of Rockford spent the weekend visiting at the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. August Sauer. On Sunday, James and son Michael and Mr. and Mrs. John Leary and Kathleen of St. Louis farm joined them and all were entertained at Sunday dinner at the Sauer home.

Mr. and Mrs. Lester Sanderson, Jr., have sold their home in which they are now living, to Leonard Genung, who lives in the vicinity of Beloit, Wis.

"Skipper" Reed, son of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph C. Reed, observed his seventh birthday Thursday.

Mr. and Mrs. Floyd Cordes will entertain the following couples at a scramble supper Saturday night: Mr. and Mrs. Frank Svoboda, Mr. and Mrs. Glenn Ewing, Mr. and Mrs. Frederick Deuth, Mr. and Mrs. Melvin Priller, Mr. and Mrs.

Ralph Beveridge and Mr. and Mrs. George Etnyre, Jr., C. V. Mattison, who has been employed at the office of the Ogilvie County Republican for 26 years, is leaving for Phoenix, Ariz., this weekend, where he has obtained employment on a newspaper plant.

SS General Guilty of Nazi Crimes, Decision
Frankfurt, Germany, March 5—(AP) U. S. army headquarters has announced that Hans Juettnier, former SS (Elite Guard) general, has been convicted of being a major nazi offender.

A special German denazification court at Neustadt gave him the maximum punishment — 10 years at hard labor and confiscation of all his property.

Gould Heiress Is Granted a Divorce

Phoenix, Ariz., March 5—(AP)—Gloria Barker Grumitich, pretty 23-year-old Gould heiress, today was granted a divorce from William Henry Grumitich, Jr., and custody of their two children.

The outcome of last week's sensational four-day divorce trial here was told last night by Superior Court Clerk Walter Wilson to whom Judge J. Mercer Johnson mailed the decision from Tucson. Wilson said the paper would be officially filed later today.

Wilson said there was no mention of alimony or child-support payments in the decision. That subject, he said, probably will be covered in the formal judgment which will be submitted to Judge Johnson by attorneys.

The father was granted "reasonable visitation" privileges. Gloria had filed the divorce action but her husband countered with a cross complaint in which he charged infidelities and based much of his case on a gilded duty kept by his wife while he was overseas.

The young heiress, crippled for life in an automobile accident with her husband late in 1916, had divorced from the witness stand having intimacies with any man other than her husband.

Grumitich, who was represented by Philip La Folette, former governor of Wisconsin, had charged his wife with moral misconduct with several men in 1916 prior to his return. He had filed a habeas corpus action to gain custody of the two children, William Henry III, 3, and Gloria Gloria, 18 months.

The couple was married in New York in May, 1913. She is a great grand-daughter of financier Jay Gould.

Dixon Midshipman Visits West Point

(Telegraph Special Service)
West Point, N. Y., March 5—Midshipman Roger Chapman, son of Mr. and Mrs. Dwight B. Chapman of 321 East Chamberlain street, Dixon, last weekend visited the United States Military Academy at West Point, N. Y. The visit was in accordance with the plan of an exchange program whereby first classmen (seniors), of each of the two academies, West Point and Annapolis, visit the other's institution.

Midshipman Chapman and other midshipmen in his group travelled by special train and bus to the academy grounds at West Point, where they were met by their cadet hosts. The midshipmen were quartered in barracks with their hosts and attended classes and instruction with them.

The immediate purpose of this and other exchange visits by the cadets and midshipmen is to enhance relations between the military and naval services of the United States by giving the graduating classes of the two academies an insight into the life and duties of the undergraduates of the other academy. The program, which was instituted two years ago, is also one of conventional future Army-Navy relations. At the conclusion of the program each member of the graduating classes will have paid a visit to the other academy.

Federal Employment Rises Sharply, Report

Washington, March 5—(AP)—Federal employment rose sharply in January to a 2,000,510 total, Senator Byrd (D-Va.) said today. This reversed a three-month downward trend, he noted.

In a monthly report to the senate-house economy committee which he heads, Byrd said the largest increase was reported by the military.

A Thought for Today
And Isaac went out to meditate in the field at the eventide: and he lifted up his eyes, and saw, and behold the camels were coming.—Genesis 24:63.

It is not he that reads most, but he that meditates most, on Divine truth, that will prove the choicest, wisest, strongest Christian.—Bishop Hall.

Embarrassing
If the only reason for Premier Stalin's postwar policy is fear of American "imperialism," it is unlikely that he would have okayed the Communist coup in Czechoslovakia. If he had any regard for the American third party that would guarantee peace by giving him free run he probably would not have embarrassed that third party by this aggressive act.

The third party has every reason to be embarrassed. For President Beneš gave the Communists as free a rein as was possible and still preserve a semblance of parliamentary democracy. And the Russian-injected Communists showed their appreciation by seizing control of the Czech government.

There was a bit of window-dressing to justify the Communists' action. But even they didn't seem to take it very seriously. The Communist-led police searched the National Socialist Party headquarters for several hours on the first day of the uprising and "discovered" documents supposedly revealing a conspiracy of armed revolt against the state.

The Communists' subsequent actions were not what would be used to quell a revolt against the status quo. In the first place, they destroyed the status quo. They did such things as turn the legal owners out of factories and other business places and replace them with "national managers." This scarcely comes under the head of defense measures.

There seems to have been no bitter opposition to the Communists in Czechoslovakia so long as they operated within the framework of the republic and permitted some democratic freedoms. As President Beneš said, "It is clear to me that socialism is a way of life desired by an overwhelming part of our nation."

But he added, "I believe that with socialism a certain measure of freedom and unity is possible, and that these are vital principles to all in our national life."

But that did not square with Communist policy. It was not enough to have the biggest popular vote and majority control of the cabinet and parliament. The pattern of terror and tyranny had to be re-created, for communism seems to know no other way. So free Czechoslovakia is no more.

Czechoslovakia did not oppose Russia. She was a neighbor and an ally. She was not militaristic or imperialistic or capitalistic.

As Pegler Sees It

By WESTBROOK PEGLER

For any bearing that it may have on the speculation of Senator Elmer Thomas, of Oklahoma, a Democrat, of course, I offer information.

Thomas has defied his colleague, Senator Homer Ferguson of Michigan, to "investigate" his gambling commodities. This form of trade was condemned by President Truman as a factor contributing to the cost of food and he seemed to think it a conscienceless business until he learned that the vice had claimed victims in his own political and social household. When a statesman on the senate committee on agriculture gambles on agricultural products he has an advantage comparable to that of a card-player who brings his own deck and knows how to read the cards.

Senator Thomas based his refusal to testify on his "congressional immunity," and there has been a show of unreasonable courtesy toward him.

There is no "immunity" which excuses any member of congress from giving testimony in a congressional inquiry and this fellow is no more entitled to special consideration than the ten Hollywood witnesses who are up for contempt and face a year in prison.

On immunity, the Constitution says members of the senate and house "shall, in all cases, except treason, felony and breach of the peace, be privileged from arrest during their attendance at the session of their respective houses and going to and returning from the same, and for any speech or debate in either house they shall not be questioned in any other place."

Nobody has threatened to punch Senator Thomas for anything so the first part of this passage on immunities does not apply. And nobody is trying to question him about anything he said in congress so that immunity is not involved.

If Senator Ferguson and the rest of them let Thomas get away with this, their position will be that senators are above the same laws that have been invoked in recent weeks to punish the same sort.

She did not threaten or demand. Her only sins were independence and freedom. In short, she was about what Henry Wallace and the third party would have this country become as a means of ensuring peace.

It seems to us that Czechoslovakia's fate is a challenge to Mr. Wallace and his theories. Thus far he has parried the challenge by saying, "It is impossible to know what the truth is from the American press." The American press can endure the insult. But the insult is no answer to give the voters whose support Mr. Wallace is seeking.

A policy of softness and subservience cost Czechoslovakia her freedom. Would the same policy satisfy Russia and preserve freedom in the rest of Europe if the United States should adopt it?

That is a question which Mr. Wallace must answer honestly if he is to justify the claim that his political gospel holds the key to world peace.

of refusal by other suspected persons.

Last October, when the house committee on un-American activities was hearing a lot of executives of the movie industry, a woman's voice telephoned the committee's chief investigator, Robert Stripling, to say that Senator Thomas, of Oklahoma, desired that a considerable reception be given to one Morris Rosner, who would call soon. Morris Rosner did call, introduced himself as Mickey Rosner, and said he represented Louis B. Mayer, summoned as a witness. Mayer desired to be excused because his brother was gravely ill and because, furthermore, he had no information that could not be as readily given by others in his employ.

The committee was made suspicious by Rosner's manners and therefore investigated him and got a report which caused the members to turn down Mayer's request. Mayer's testimony was not vital and if he had sent a more suitable representative he probably would have been excused. With that Hollywood genius for seeking out the most inopportune person for the job in hand, however, Mayer had picked an underworld character with an FBI record who had chided into the Landberg kidnapping inquiry, obtained $2,500 "to make proper contacts" and produced no valuable information.

Rosner told me that he was regularly employed by M. G. M. and formerly had been employed by the Motion Picture Producers Association. I haven't the slightest doubt he was, again remembering that genius of which I spoke. Mayer emitted low moans at the disclosure of the Rosner intercession, but the fault was his own. With all the world to choose from to make a legitimate request he had to pick a fellow who aroused suspicion on sight, and whose FBI report confirmed the suspicions.

I thought it strange that Senator Thomas, a country senator, should be so chummy with this fellow and I still thought so after I got a tip that for seven or eight years Rosner had made Thomas' office a sort of hangout, a nice front for a lobbyist and fixer in Washington. He was reputed to enjoy the confidence and esteem of Senator Thomas and judging by the fact that Thomas "sent him in" with the committee on un-American activities, and for other reasons, I would think he did.

During the hearings on the wool products labeling act in 1939, Rosner showed up as the Washington lobbyist of the National Association of Wool Manufacturers, who were against it. He had been hired in New York and sent to Washington where the sign on his door read "Washington Office, National Association of Wool Manufacturers, Morris Rosner, Manager."

Rosner showed up at several of the hearings, sometimes distributing "press releases," and he button-holed statesmen, telling them that he was a very big wool fellow and that this law would harm the wool industry generally. His influence, if any was enhanced by the fact that he was in and out of the office of Senator Thomas, of Oklahoma, a member of the committee in charge of the bill. He seemed to have a desk there.

Nevertheless the act passed. During the war, Rosner engaged in highly patriotic activities in the promotion of profitable war industries in Washington. One way or another, he apparently made a great deal of money. The FBI report said he frequented the race tracks near Washington and bet them higher than a cat's back. Last fall he was living at the Shoreham, which is no culvert or park bench.

In December, however, when I telephoned him last, he had checked out for the winter social season in Miami Beach.

J. B. Wilson, of McKinley, Wyo., secretary of the Wyoming Wool Growers association, who lobbied for the wool products labeling bill in 1939, recalls Rosner well. He recalls Mickey's name on that Washington door of the National Association of Wool Manufacturers but says "his name was subsequently taken off the door."

"We had inquiry made and received about the same information that you did in your column on Oct. 29," Mr. Wilson writes. "Our investigation disclosed that apparently Rosner claimed a great friendship with Senator Thomas. This apparently had some basis because Thomas was the leader of the opposition to the wool products labeling act in the senate."

"This last time I saw Rosner, I believe, was the summer of 1946 when the senate agriculture committee of which Senator Thomas was then chairman, was considering a support price for wool, which had been recommended by the administration and in which we were interested. When the representatives of the wool trade were testifying he came into the committee room through Senator Thomas' office. Because Senator Thomas attempted to delay the report of the committee, we immediately assumed that Rosner had had some connection with the wool trade. We were not able to substantiate this."

Sensors, you take it from here and let us have no nonsense about immunities.

Deaths

CHARLES B. SMITH
Peoria, Ill., March 5—(AP)—Charles B. Smith, 83, dean of Peoria newspapermen, died today of a heart ailment after three weeks' hospitalization.

Smith had been in newspaper work for more than 60 years. A native of Washington, Ill., he moved to Peoria in 1907 as a reporter on the old Peoria Journal.

In 1911, Smith joined the staff of the Peoria Star as city editor. He was appointed managing editor in 1933. He remained with the Star until 1939, when he joined the Peoria Journal and Transcript as a columnist.

He took a leave of absence because of ill health three months ago. Smith had no close relatives. Funeral services will be held Monday in Peoria, with burial in Peoria.

State Cop Joins Chase And Gets Parking Ticket

San Francisco, March 5—(AP)—When state agent Ray McCarthy saw the cops chasing a gunman down the street he parked his car and joined the chase.

When he got back his car was gone—towed away by police for illegal parking.

Police, however, thanked McCarthy profusely for his help. The judge let him off when he heard McCarthy's story. The gunman got off easy, too. He outran the whole bunch.

Social Legislation Needed, Truman Says

New York, March 5—(AP)—President Truman said last night that the nation, in the light of its rapidly-changing economy, must enact additional social legislation, including an increase in the minimum hourly wage.

The present minimum wage, Mr. Truman said, was outmoded during the war.

The president's message was read at a dinner marking the 35th anniversary of the elevation of the U. S. department of labor to cabinet status.

VAILE CLOTHIERS

AS LONG AS I LIVE

By Ione Sandberg Shriber DISTRIBUTED BY NEA SERVICE, INC.

THE STORY: Ann Bancroft is in bed with a sick headache. After Rush, her husband, brings up her supper and pampers her a bit, Ann decides she must have been crazy earlier that day to have convinced herself someone in her own household wanted to murder her. Because she had discovered the wife on the drive of her new shoes, and the staircase at Topkili was steep an slippery . . . because the swinging bridge over the ravine in the garden had collapsed, killing Luke the gardener . . . because her typewriter had crashed from a closet shelf, narrowly missing her . . . Ann had spent the afternoon adding it all up in mounting terror. Now, secure again, she reflects that she had dismissed Rush, and Laurie, her 19-year-old sister, from the suspect list simply because she wouldn't let herself believe either of them wanted her out of the way: Gay, Rush's attractive lab assistant, and Tommy, Laurie's fiancé, because she could find no motive. And she had idiotically figured that Rinda, her old friend and houseguest, had wanted to kill her merely because she (Ann) was the only person who knew about an old college scandal Rinda had been involved in. Now she recalls someone else who also knew about it—Kelly Winton. Rush comes up to say goodnight to Ann, says he'll sleep in the next room so his snoring won't keep her awake.

XI
HER head was the size of seven heads and she was whirling, whirling through a horrid grayness that was shot with piercing lights. She could hear voices, but only vaguely; they faded away into the grayness and then came back again. She couldn't breathe . . . she couldn't breathe . . . she began to sink back into the grayness that was bottomless and awful.

"That's better."
She heard the words distinctly. It was Rush.

What did he mean—better? Then he spoke again and she heard the words. He said: "She's coming out of it. Thank God. That was a close one."

ANN heard the rattle of cups on saucers and, with an enormous effort, she opened her eyes. She was on the porch. She was flat on her back on the porch couch. There was a blanket tucked all around her and she had the queerest taste in her mouth, muffled, as though her mouth were stuffed with cotton batting.

"If we can get some of this coffee into her—" Rush said.

Gay held a cup of hot black coffee to Ann's lips. She swallowed obediently because she knew that was what they wanted her to do. It burned the roof of her mouth and brought tears to her eyes but she drank it. She closed her eyes again but only for a moment this time; then she opened them, looked up into Rush's haggard face.

"The gods be praised," Rush said. His voice was a mixture of so many things. Relief and anger and love and outrage. "Ann, if you ever scare me like that again! I'm going to have that fireplace ripped out the first thing in the morning. I swear I am!"

"There, there," Rinda's voice was a croon, soft and gentle and infinitely soothing. "Don't frighten her."

"She needs to be frightened," Rush said bluntly and it was obvious that righteous anger was taking the place of whatever emotion he had just been through. "Telling me she'd call me if she needed anything and then closing all the windows and turning on that blasted fireplace."

"RUSH, go get some whisky!" Rinda's voice was crisp. Crisp and authoritative and brooking no argument. "Go on, get some whisky. Have some yourself but if you don't want any get me some. I could use it."

Ann frowned up at Rinda. Somewhere, sometime, this had happened before. She'd got awake and Rinda had been bending over her and something terrible had happened. Her mind refused to remember. But Rush had said—what had he said? That she had done—what? Closed the windows and turned on the fireplace? But it was this afternoon she'd done that—didn't she remember?

This afternoon when . . . Suddenly her mind seized on a notion.

"Rinda—" could that hoarse whisper be her own voice? "Rinda, what ever became of Kelly Winton?"

"She's delirious," Laurie said softly from somewhere.

But Rinda knew she wasn't delirious. Rinda looked at Ann and said steadily, "He was in the Navy during the war, Ann." She paused and Ann's eyes remained fixed on Rinda's face. Rinda wet her lips and said, "He was killed at Okinawa."

Ann closed her eyes. By no effort could she have held them open. By no effort could she have continued looking at Rinda's face. She hadn't been wrong this afternoon, she had been right. She knew there was danger all around her . . . all around her . . .

SOCIETY NEWS

Lucille Lofton - Non Beane Are Married

The First Baptist church of Dixon was the scene of a pretty March 2, wedding when Miss Lucille Lofton of Kansas City, Mo., and Non Beane of Pekin, Ill., were wed. Dr. J. H. Hughes heard the ceremony at 4 o'clock.

Nuptial music was provided by Mrs. Hughes who played a short program and Lohengrin and Mendelssohn with McDowell's "To a Wild Rose" during the ceremony.

The bride was attired in a navy blue silk ballerina suit with accessories of the same color. A navy blue wool ballerina suit with navy accessories formed the costume of the matron of honor, Mrs. James Hewitt, of Chicago, sister of the groom. The bride wore a corsage of pink rosebuds while her matron of honor had red rosebuds.

Don Beane of Staunton acted as best man and Hewitt Lofton of Philadelphia, Pa., brother of the bride, was here to give his sister away.

Little Miss Linda Lee Beane of Pekin was ring bearer, dressed in a pink pinafore.

Mrs. Nell Lofton of Fort Wayne, Ind. mother of the bride, was seen in a black print dress and a corsage of pink sweetpeas and the groom's mother wore a brown suit and a corsage of yellow jonquils.

Guests at the wedding included Mrs. Don Beane of Staunton, Mr. and Mrs. Fred Moeckel of Pekin, Mr. and Mrs. Richard Baxter of Pekin and Mrs. Courtney Schafer of Amboy.

BROWNIE TROOP 18 MEETS WEDNESDAY

Brownie Troop No. 18 met at the Woodworth school at 3:30 p. m. Wednesday, March 3.

The troop is studying "Health and Safety" and after their opening exercises worked on their health books. The singing of songs and the playing of games were also enjoyed by them. Plans were made for a window which the troop is going to have in the business district from March 9 till March 11, to display some of their work including their "Clothing Kits." Mothers and friends of the Brownies are asked to save their waste fats for a city-wide drive to be held March 19 to 26 by all girl scouts.

Brownie Troop No. 18 has earned much money by the sale of popcorn balls and hope to continue to do so in the near future.

The little Brownie girls with the help of Mrs. Oscar Smith have purchased health supplies and now have their own health kit.

Mrs. Roger J. Nelson is the leader and Mrs. Oscar Smith is the assistant leader of the troop.

The United States has more than 123,000 miles of petroleum pipelines.

"Howdy Lincoln" Proves Successful

The "Howdy Mr. Lincoln" show that was presented at the Lincoln school last Friday evening has been announced as a complete success. The show being a co-operative affair between the students and teachers.

Mrs. Myrtle Walgreen was a prominent guest for the affair. Miss Dorothy Parkins was chairman for the well attended performance.

Mrs. Revere Rinehart acted as chairman for the buffet style supper that was held before the show. The food for the supper was donated and served by the parents.

Mrs. Kenneth Dusing was chairman of the bazaar which was held throughout the evening, the articles for this having been furnished by the parents.

The two performances at 6:50 and 8 p. m. were participated in by 650 students which consisted of groups from each room.

The theme of the whole program was centered around the statue presented to the school by Mrs. Ruth Walgreen Stephan. A crowd of about 600 attended this outstanding program.

CONGRESS NO. 16
Congress No. 16 of St. Paul's Lutheran church will meet Tuesday evening, March 9 at 7:45 in the home of Mrs. Fred Crawford, 610 East Third street. The hostesses will be Mrs. Crawford and Dorothy Drake. Program leaders will be Edna Weyant and Lulu Wohrley.

Minerva Anderson Weds C. A. Heaton

(Telegraph Special Service)

Miss Minerva L. Anderson, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Alvin Anderson of near Dover, became the bride of Clifford A. Heaton, son of Mr. and Mrs. Cecil Heaton of Walnut in a pretty ceremony at three o'clock last Saturday afternoon in the Dover Congregational church. Rev. P. J. Eckhoff officiated at the double ring ceremony.

Mrs. Earl Nothnagle played a prelude of wedding music on the organ preceding the ceremony. Harris Miller sang, "Because", and "I Love You Truly", and Mrs. Nothnagle played the traditional wedding marches.

The front of the church was decorated with palms, ferns and baskets of white gladioli and ferns were placed on each side of the pulpit.

The bride's gown was white satin finished in princess style with wide lace insertion at the seam extending from the neckline to the hem of the skirt. A wide lace ruffle bordered the skirt, which extended into a short train. Her train, a tip veil of illusion was "something borrowed," and was held to her head by a tiara of artificial flowers and buds. She carried a shower bouquet of white gladioli, candytuft and sweet peas.

Mrs. Mildred Anderson, sister of the bride was maid of honor. Her gown was aqua moire made with a long skirt and short puffed sleeves. Her coronal bouquet was of yellow daffodils and candy tuft.

The bridesmaids were Mrs. Marilyn Andrews, sister of the groom and Miss Amy Alexander, college friend of the bride. Their gowns were of chartreuse moire, made like that of the maid of honor and they carried bouquets identical to that of her's. Ann Steele of Dover was flower girl, wearing a pink frock and scattering rose petals.

Omer Baumgartner of Kewanee served as best man, and Harold Steele of Dover and Harold Guther of Walnut were ushers.

A reception at the home of the bride's parents followed the ceremony.

Mr. and Mrs. Heaton left on a short wedding trip and plan to make their home near Ohio, on a farm. The bride wore for traveling, a black and white ensemble.

Mrs. Heaton was graduated from Princeton high school and attended Iowa State College and James Millikin University. Mr. Heaton was graduated from Walnut Community high school and since his return from four years of army service has been engaged in farming near Walnut.

Coldness Features Pulaski Day Event
Chicago, March 5—(AP)—The 200th anniversary of General Casimir Pulaski's birth was observed yesterday in the frigid atmosphere of two Chicago Polish groups.
One group, representing the Polish-American Congress arrived at a plaque honoring the Revolutionary War hero in the lobby of the U. S. Courthouse and proceeded with its annual wreath-laying ceremony.
The group carried a sign which said "Pulaski in his time fought Russian aggression in Poland and later died for American democracy."
Before that ceremony was completed another group arrived. It was headed by Polish Consul Marjorie B. Cieplak, accused by the Polish-American Congress of representing a Russian-dominated government.
Cieplak made a speech describing Pulaski as "our great hero," then placed a wreath on the plaque "in the name of the Polish people and the Polish republic."
Mrs. Kinga Dziubak, vice president of the Congress delegation, then stepped forward. "We don't want that wreath next to ours," she said, shaking her finger at Cieplak's face.
Cieplak moved his wreath, a few inches.
The two groups then stared icily at each other and left.

Harriman Refuses
the department's loyalty board found "no reasonable grounds exist for believing that Dr. Condon is disloyal to the government."
But Harriman said it would be against the public interest to turn over the papers.
He said he agrees with the findings of his department's loyalty board.
He added, however, that "in view of the public interest in this matter" he is asking Civil Service commission's loyalty review board to look at the records.
The house committee had said Condon "knowingly or unknowingly" had associated with suspected Russian spies.
Confidential Data Affected
Harriman took his stand in a letter addressed to Chairman J. Parnell Thomas (R-N.J.) of the un-American activities committee.
The secretary said Attorney General Clark had advised him that the "executive branch is not as a matter of law" required to supply such information to the committee. Rather, he quoted Clark, it "has the duty" to use its own judgment.
In the Condon case, Harriman said it is his judgment that it would be prejudicial to the public interest.
He said the Condon file includes confidential information from other government agencies. He said it also contains names of people who gave information to government investigators "on the assurance that their action in so doing would not be disclosed."
Consequently, he said, the effectiveness of the government's

Elks G. E. R. Is Visitor—
L. A. Lewis of Alameda, Calif., Grand Exalted Ruler of the Benevolent and Protective Order of Elks of the United States, paid an informal visit to Dixon lodge last evening. Last evening he was the honored guest at a meeting of the Rockford Elks club where officials from throughout the northwest Illinois district were present. Past Grand Exalted Ruler H. C. Warner and District Deputy Victor N. Eichler of Dixon were present at the Rockford meeting after which they accompanied the distinguished guest to Dixon, where he gave an informal talk and enjoyed a visit with officers and members of the local lodge before taking a train for the west coast.

ping," he related.
Collins floated down the river after the boat turned over, swallowing a large amount of oily water.
"I was just about out of breath when I was picked up," he said.
Had Big Tow of Oil
At St. Louis Peter Fanchi, assistant traffic manager of Federal Barge Lines, said the Natchez tow has a cargo of 60,000 barrels of oil. He said the boat carried a full crew of 28, most of them from New Orleans.
Howell, who lives at Cairo, Ill., said the disaster was "by far the worst" in the 12 years he has been on the river. He is 28 years old.
The young captain said he had no names of victims or survivors, except that he had picked up Haas.
He said he thought the master of the Natchez, Capt. John Brodzinski of St. Louis was missing.

SOCIETY NEWS
AAUW Workshop Class Has Meeting
The first of a series of study workshops composing the studies of women in this country and others was held last evening at the home of Mrs. E. Merrick, 1611 Third street.
The Dixon branch of the AAUW is sponsoring these shops under the chairmanship of Mrs. Merrick, Miss Esther Barton and Mrs. Grover Gehant.
The first speaker, Mrs. Homer Schildberg of 207 Peoria avenue, and English War II bride spoke on "England." She compared the life of the English woman to that of the American woman in many interesting instances. Mrs. Schildberg is from Ipswich near London and at the age of 19 began six years of service with the Auxiliary Territorial Service, (this is the same thing as our Wacs.)
Mrs. Glenn Spate was a guest and brought with her many beautiful pieces of old English china. English clothes were shown by the speaker, and Miss Ruby Nattress provided English magazines for inspection.
The next meeting will be held at the home of Mrs. Gehant, 222 East Second street, and this will be on the "Women of Switzerland" with Mrs. Joseph Gasser as discussion leader. Miss Gladys Jamieson will be the assistant hostess.

Announce Marriage of Katherine Stout
(Telegraph Special Service)
Oregon—Mr. and Mrs. Leo Stout have announced the marriage of their daughter, Katherine Irene, to Archie J. Burke, son of Mrs. Fay W. Burke of Mt. Morris, which took place Feb. 14.
They will make their home with the bride's mother for the present.

BERNICE MILLER SHOWER HONOREE
Mrs. C. Clausen entertained at her home Wednesday evening. The occasion was a miscellaneous shower in honor of Bernice Miller, a future bride.
Games were played after which refreshments were served. The guest of honor received many lovely gifts.

LADIES AID HAS MEET
The Immanuel Lutheran Ladies Aid met yesterday afternoon at the church. Mrs. Edward Gerdes had charge of the business meeting and the topic for the day was taken by Mrs. Ruth Shaulis. Rev. Wagner led the Bible study for the group.
At the close of the meeting

DOROTHY PARKINS HONORED AT TEA
Misses Lorraine Missman and Gladys Smith entertained the Lincoln school teachers and supervisors with a tea at the home of Miss Smith, Wednesday after school. The occasion honored Miss Dorothy Parkins who is leaving Dixon this week. The teachers presented Miss Parkins with a gift.

So. Central P.T.A. Entertains Teachers
South Central Teachers, Special teachers, their wives and husbands were entertained at a dinner last evening in the school auditorium by the P.T.A. board members and room mothers.
Mrs. Raymond Johnson was in charge of the arrangements. The tables were decorated in keeping with St. Patrick's Day and the centerpiece was presented with the compliments of Cook's Flower Shop.
In the absence of the P.T.A. president, Mrs. Eugene Gordon, Mrs. George Holland, vice president, welcomed the guests and extended greetings.
A social hour followed the dinner with group singing, games and stunts directed by Mrs. Holland.
Much credit is to be given these mothers for providing this enjoyable party.

★ SUNDAY SCHOOL LESSON
The Personal Witness of the Christian
Scripture: Acts 8:26-39
BY WILLIAM E. GILROY, D. D.
The personal witness of our lesson was Philip, the Evangelist, and the story is of his contact with, and witness to, the noble Ethiopian, a man of color and great importance, who was treasurer to Queen Candace.
This Philip is not to be confused with Philip, one of the Twelve Apostles, who was also a great witness. It was he who brought his brother, Nathaniel, to Jesus at the same time that Andrew brought his brother, Peter. It is that witnessing (see John 1) that is the occasion and motivating power of the well-known brotherhood of Andrew and Philip, which in its present-day activities seeks to follow the example of these Apostles in bringing others to Jesus.
Philip, the Evangelist, was one of the deacons, or seven brethren (Acts 6:1-8), set apart for the management of business matters in the church, so that the Twelve might give themselves entirely to the spiritual ministry. He seems, however, to have been much more than a business executive, for there are evidences of his preaching to other widely.
The Ethiopian prince, for that is virtually what he was, was evidently one of the many in that ancient world, who, though non-Jewish, were drawn to Judaism by its superior morality and the beauty of its Scriptures. He was coming to Jerusalem to worship.
ing Worship service, 10:45 a. m. The pastor will speak on the subject, "A Must for Today." Young People's Happy Hour, 6:30 p. m. "Quiz Night" with the Young Married Young People pitted against the Single Young People in a pleasure-packed Question program. The Evening Evangelistic service at 7:30 p. m. 75 minutes filled with singing and music and climaxed with a right-to-the-point "Heart to Heart Talk."

Sales Tax Evidence is Down During February
Springfield, Ill., March 5—(AP)—The state sales tax and two other major revenue sources brought less money into the Illinois treasury during February than January.
A state treasurer's report showed the sales tax produced $12,904,966, a decrease of $2,273,131 from January. The tax yielded $28,083,064 for the first two months of 1948, or $3,334,730 more than the comparable 1947 period.
Motor fuel taxes declined to $3,976,387 in February, $557,060 less than January. The cigarette tax went down $26,751 to $1,972,156.
The general revenue fund balance rose $2,000,000 from Jan. 31 and totaled $179,253,696 on Feb. 29.
PENSIONS TO 126,783
Springfield, Ill., March 5—(AP)—Old age pensions totaling $5,442,637 and averaging $42.93 were paid 126,783 persons during February, the Illinois Public Aid commission reported today.
It has been estimated that nearly 7,000,000 wild horses once roamed the west.
